Career

Experience

JurisCom – Bonheiden, Belgium

Lawyer, Privacy Professional & Communicator (5/2020 – present)

As self-employed legal interim manager and corporate communications expert, I operate at the crossroads of high quality, pragmatic legal advice and effective corporate communications. I provide legal interim management services (including contract negotiation, commercial settlement, transactional support, training on various legal topics, corporate governance), as well as corporate presentation and media training, coaching for public speaking and leadership development. As a legal professional, I have extensive experience in drafting, negotiating and concluding commercial agreements of any type, including ICT contracts (IaaS, PaaS, SaaS) and data processing agreements.

As a certified privacy professional (CIPP/E – IAPP), I support companies with GDPR compliance and can act as (external) data privacy officer.

Presently, among other projects, I provide legal interim services to Belgian biotechnology company Nyxoah on data protection (GDPR) compliance matters. I manage the roll out of its data protection policy, awareness trainings, data protection impact analyses and data processing agreements.

Liber.ius Law Firm – Brussels, Belgium
Partner (9/2020 – present)

In many ways the legal profession has become embedded in its archaic, long-established inefficiencies. As founding partner at Liber.ius (2020) I have consciously chosen to allow our lawyers to embrace innovative methods to better protect and serve our clients' commercial and creative freedom (liber) and rights (ius). We rely on advanced working practices and technologies, paired with efficient use of resources, to improve our services and deliver better results and solutions to our clients, simply by tackling legal issues with more flexibility and creativity. Liber.ius lawyers are entrepreneurial in their understanding of our clients' businesses, and maintain the freedom to prioritize client needs and work closely with our clients to achieve the most efficient solutions. With a very strong commitment to deliver value to your business, Liber.ius lawyers strive not only to meet your expectations, but to surpass them.
